

Artist Statement

In my practice I work across media. Creating art and living in the rural setting has an element of being removed from the mainstream culture on one hand and a better connection to nature on the other, this provides an encouraging environment to create private interpretation of the world. My practice is based in Lethbridge, Newfoundland. This place informs and inspires my work. I respond to the world emotionally and the attraction to one or the other medium, subject matter or narrative comes from that. I work in series. My artistic journey is an exploration in the pursuit of finding my own voice in the arts. Curiosity about the world drives my inspiration.
